In Conjunction With:

FINAL PROGRAM
This year, GT2020 will be featuring once again the Medical Students Forum (MSF2020). We are delighted to announce the Medical Student Forum 2020 which will deliver interactive sessions and didactic lectures. The MSF2020 Forum will once again be held in conjunction with the upcoming GulfThoracic Congress 2020 which will take place at InterContinental- Dubai Festival City, UAE on 13 March 2020.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

All colleges of medicine are invited to encourage participation of their medical students to submit abstracts and attend this great educational opportunity.

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

At MSF2020, will deliver state of the art lectures and interactive sessions conducted by renowned International and Regional Faculty Members, catering for medical students at all levels.

MEDICAL STUDENT ABSTRACTS

The Medical Student (MSF2020) Scientific Committee invites you to submit abstracts for poster and/or oral presentation at the upcoming Medical Student Forum (MSF2020). Abstracts in any Medical Specialty or Medical Education may be submitted.

On behalf of the GulfThoracic 2020 Scientific Committee, I am delighted to welcome you to the Medical Students Forum 2020 (MSF2020) which is taking place at InterContinental - Dubai Festival City, UAE on 13 March 2020.

The MSF is coming this year as continuation of the success of the three proceeding forums with new vibrant and exciting program. Our program this year will cover important general and diagnostic topics. As the students are the real partners of the success of MSF, we have dedicated special sessions for short communication where they can present their research in different research themes.

This track was developed to encourage medical and other health professions students to present their basic science, clinical, community based, or medical education research. I am pleased to re-welcome everyone to MSF2020 wishing you an enjoyable, motivational, and useful meeting.
